Plenty of Arms
Paris, Dec. 29.—The fact that there is still a large underground trade in munitions of war throughout Europe has been disclosed through the receipt of charges of British newspapers that the French government had supplied the Turkish Nationalist army with the where-with-all to defeat the British in the vicinity of Constantinople.

Information reaching Paris is believed to disprove this broadcast statement against the French. On the contrary, it is affirmed that no small part of the Turkish military supplies was obtained in London through a firm partly British, and certainly with no Turk sympathies.
